

Back to School (Ages 12-18)

Me and the Blondes

By Teresa Toten
Sophie transfers to a new school determined to befriend that group of popular girls every school has, and hide the fact that her father's been arrested.

The School for Dangerous Girls

By Eliot Schrefer
Angela thinks she's being sent to reform school, but when she arrives she finds out what's really happening to the girls who can't be 'fixed'...

Hex Hall

By Rachel Hawkins
After a spell gone wrong, teenage witch Sophie is sent to Hex Hall. There, she becomes embroiled in a mystery surrounding on campus attacks, and a dangerous secret society.

How to Ditch Your Fairy

By Justine Larbalestier
Charlie attends a super elite sports school in a place where everyone has an invisible personal fairy.

Vampire High

By Douglas Rees
Cody's new school is more than a little strange – it turns out it's full of vampires! And disrupting years of human-vampire segregation can make fitting in at school a bit of a challenge.

Vampire Academy

By Richelle Mead
Half-vampire Rose and Vampire Princess Lissa have just been brought back to Vampire Academy. But the danger that sent them on the run two years ago is still present, and only together can they defeat it.

Wayside School is Falling Down

By Louis Sachar
Contains 30 humorous stories about Mrs. Jewell's class of students on the very top floor of the school.

Schooled

By Gordon Korman
Cap has lived his whole life on a commune. But when his guardian is injured, he's forced to attend middle school for the first time.

Sweet Valley High

By Francine Pascal
Follows the lives of Jessica and Elizabeth Wakefield, two California twin sisters who couldn't be more different.

Avalon High

By Meg Cabot
After moving to a new town, Elaine is drawn into the lives of several of her classmates who might just be reincarnations of King Arthur's court.
