How I Paid for College

By Marc Acito
Edward's incapable of holding down a job, so he turns to his loyal (but immoral) misfit friends to help him steal the tuition money from his father to go to the most prestigious acting school.

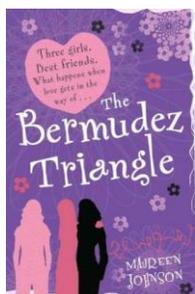

My Heartbeat

By Garret Freymann-Weyr
Ellen loves Link and James. Then someone at school asks if Link and James might be in love with each other. A simple question. But the answer is far from simple, and its repercussions affect their entire lives.

The Geography Club

By Brent Hartinger
Seven friends form a support group (the "Geography Club" is their cover-up name). But when Russell refuses to have sex with a girl and word gets out that he's gay, it soon becomes friendship versus betrayal.

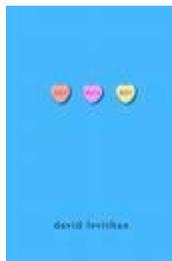

The Bermudez Triangle

By Maureen Johnson
When Nina goes away in the summer before senior year, she comes back to find her two best friends acting strangely. Nina has no idea why until one day when she walks into the dressing room...

Magic's Pawn

By Mercedes Lackey
A young man's painful discovery of his own immense talents and his true nature form the core of this richly detailed fantasy.

Boy Meets Boy

By David Levithan
Levithan's prophecy of a hate-free world in which everyone loves without persecution makes this a provocative and important read for all young adults, gay or straight.

Define Normal

By Julie Anne Peters
This thoughtful, wry story is about two girls--a "punk" and a "priss"--who find themselves facing each other in a peer-counseling program and discover that they have some surprising things in common.

Rainbow Boys

By Alex Sanchez
Three teenage boys, coming of age and out of the closet. Alex Sanchez follows these very different high-school seniors as their struggles with sexuality and intolerance draw them into a triangle of love, betrayal, and ultimately, friendship.

A Really Nice Prom Mess

By Brian Sloan
Gay high school senior Cameron Hayes endures a disastrous prom night when forced to take a girl as his date.

Freak Show

By James St. James
Teenage drag queen Billy Bloom explodes onto the conservative scene at Eisenhower Academy, where he finds love and a band of blond sadists.
