

British Home Children

Home Children, 1869-1932

<http://www.bac-lac.gc.ca/eng/discover/immigration/immigration-records/home-children-1869-1930/pages/home-children.aspx>

Library and Archives Canada (LAC) holds unique and extensive records about British Home Children, such as passenger lists, Immigration Branch correspondence files and inspection reports as well as indexes to some records held in the United Kingdom. The records also include names of older boys and girls who were recruited by immigration agents in the U.K. for farming and domestic work in Canada.

British Home Children in Canada

<http://canadianbritishhomechildren.weebly.com/>

This site catalogs the information and Home Child stories that CEO Lori Oschefski comes across in her research of the British Home Children and their Canadian connections. It is not a complete listing & information is added daily. Links are provided to more detailed information.

The British Home Children Advocacy and Research Association (BHCARA)

<http://www.britishhomechildren.com/>

The BHCARA is an international organization that catalogues Home Child information and Home Children stories, to reconnect families torn apart by migrant programs and to promote the story of the Home Children across the world.

Barnardo's After Care Service

barnardos.org.uk

http://www.barnardos.org.uk/what_we_do/our_history.htm

The site offers history of the UK's leading children's charity and describes the work of its founder Thomas Barnardo. Visitors to the site can request information about deceased relatives that were once in its care.

British Home Children Links

Census 1901 and Census 1911

<http://automatedgenealogy.com/uidlinks/BhcList.jsp>

A listing of links from records in the index to the 1901, 1911 Censuses to the Home Children records at the Library and Archives Canada web site. Names are as they appear in the 1901 and 1911 Censuses.

Middlemore Home Children

<http://www.bifhsgo.ca/cpage.php?pt=13>

Middlemore's child emigration program was neither the first, nor the largest, for Canada. However, it is unique in having made many of its internal records openly available on microfilm for family and social history studies. The Middlemore Home Children website provides resources for Middlemore researchers.

Oshawa Public Libraries Resources

The golden bridge [Book]: young immigrants to Canada, 1833-1939 - Kohli, Marjorie.

305.230869450971 KOH – MCLAUGHLIN

305.230869450971 KOH - LEGENDS

The Home children [Book]: their personal stories - Harrison, Phyllis.

362.730922 HOM - MCLAUGHLIN

Laying the children's ghosts to rest [Book]: Canada's home children in the West - Joyce, Arthur.

305.2308694509712 JOY – MCLAUGHLIN

305.2308694509712 JOY – JESS HANN

The little immigrants [Book]: the orphans who came to Canada - Bagnell, Kenneth.

971.05 BAG – MCLAUGHLIN

The little immigrants [Electronic Resource]: the orphans who came to Canada - Bagnell, Kenneth

262465-1001 - 1 - E-BOOK – ONLINE

Nobody's child [DVD]: Canada's home children - Gray, Don, film director.

DVD 304.871041083 NOB – LEGENDS

The Quarrie's story [Electronic Resource]: one man's vision that gave 7,000 children a new life in Canada - Magnusson, Anna.

319976-1001 - 1 - E-BOOK - ONLINE

Uprooted [Electronic Resource]: the shipment of poor children to Canada, 1867-1917 - Parker, R. A. (Roy Alfred).

319953-1001 - 1 - E-BOOK – ONLINE